CORAM : MR.JUSTICE A.L.DAVE

Date of decision: 02/05/2000

ORAL JUDGEMENT

1. The petitioner-Dineshbhai alias Dagad Samabhai Vasava has been detained under the provisions of the Gujarat Prevention of Anti-Social Activities Act, 1985 ("PASA Act" for short) by virtue of an order passed by Commissioner of Police, Surat City, Surat, in exercise of powers under Section 3(1) of the Gujarat Prevention of Anti-Social Activities Act, 1985 ("PASA Act" for short), dated November 25, 1999.

2. The grounds of detention indicate that the detaining authority took into consideration the five offences registered against the petitioner as well as statements of two witnesses. Identity of the witnesses has not been disclosed by the detaining authority in exercise of powers under Section 9(2) of the PASA Act. The detaining authority also considered the possibility of resorting to less drastic remedies, but came to conclusion that, considering the illegal and anti-social activities, it is necessary to immediately prevent him from pursuing his activities. The detaining authority came to conclusion that detention under PASA Act is the only efficacious remedy that can be resorted to, to immediately prevent the petitioner from pursuing his activities.

3. The petitioner has challenged this order of detention on various counts. However, learned advocate, Mr. Panchal, has restricted his arguments to the fact that the subjective satisfaction recorded by the detaining authority for the need for exercise of powers under Section 9(2) of the PASA Act, cannot be considered as genuine. In order to substantiate his submission, Mr. submitted that the statements were recorded on October 20 and 29, 1999, the same were verified by the detaining authority on November 25, 1999 and the order of detention is passed on that very day. He submitted, therefore, that there was no time for the detaining authority to give consideration to the question of correctness and genuineness of the facts stated by the witnesses and the fear expressed by the witnesses, respectively, in their statements. The exercise of powers under Section 9(2) of the PASA Act is improper and has resulted into denial of right of making an effective representation as contemplated under Article 22(5) of the constitution. Mr. Panchal, therefore, submitted that, in light of the decision of a Division Bench of this Court in the case of Kalidas Chandubhai Kahar v. State of Gujarat & Ors., 1993(2) GLR 1659, this petition may be allowed.

4. Mr. K.T. Dave, learned Assistant Government Pleader, has opposed this petition. He, however, does not dispute the factual aspect of the verification of the statements having been made on 1999 and the order having been passed on .

5. It is clear from the grounds of detention that the detaining authority has taken into consideration the statements of two anonymous witnesses. The authority came to a conclusion that the fear expressed by these witnesses is correct and genuine and, therefore, the authority exercised powers under Section 9(2) of the PASA Act by not disclosing the identity of the witnesses. This Court is at loss to appreciate how the detaining authority could have arrived at this conclusion in such short spell. It is, therefore, not possible to know as to what were the factors and material considered by the detaining authority besides the statements of the anonymous witnesses to come to conclusion that the fear expressed by the witnesses was genuine, that the incidents stated by the witnesses were correct and that there was need for exercise of powers under Section 9(2) of the PASA Act.

6. Similar such situation arose before a Division Bench of this Court in the case of Kalidas Chandubhai Kahar (supra), where the statements were verified on 16th October, 1992 and the order was passed on 17th October, 1992 and the Division Bench said that exercise of powers under Section 9(2) of the PASA Act was improper. This improper exercise of powers under Section 9(2) of the PASA Act was held to be detrimental to the right of the detenu of making an effective representation contemplated under Article 22(5) of the Constitution. The order of detention was, therefore, quashed. The facts of the present case squarely fall in line with the facts of that case. The order of detention, therefore, stands vitiated in the instant case as well and the petition deserves to be allowed on this count alone.

7. Even otherwise, the order would fall because of consideration of irrelevant factors by the detaining authority. The detaining authority has taken into consideration possibility of resorting to Section 57 of the Bombay Police Act. In absence of any conviction, proceedings under Section 57 is out of question and, therefore, an irrelevant factor. This consideration of irrelevant factor would reflect non-application of mind and would vitiate the order (Bhupatbhai Ramjibhai Vasava v. District Magistrate, Bharuch, 1992(2) GLH 350).

8. In view of the above discussion, the petition is allowed. The impugned order of detention dated November 25, 1999 passed against the detenu-Dineshbhai alias Dagad Somabhai Vasava is hereby quashed. The detenu is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith, if not required in any other matter. Rule is made absolute with no orders as to costs.
